Election on May 6.

The Harlow constituency is fourth in the list of marginal seats which the Conservatives must capture if they want to form the next Government.

Sitting Labour MP Bill Rammell held the seat at the last election in 2005 by just 97 votes – a majority of just 0.2 per cent.

Conservative Party chairman Eric Pickles has already declared the town the key battleground and Tory candidate Robert Halfon will

Council 'causing housing delays'

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Council has been criticised by a solicitor, a charity and an ex-serviceman for causing unnecessary delays that stop the town's homeless from finding accommodation.

Solicitor Jackie Brown claimed there were numerous cases when the council had not given the correct forms to people who were clearly living rough.

"If council officers have reason to believe that a person is vulnerable and they are homeless, they have a duty under law to house them while an application for housing is made," she said.

"But my experience is that people have not been given the correct form so an application has not been made.

"They've come to us thinking they've made an application when they haven't. The result is that there is a delay in finding accommodation for some very vulnerable people."

CRITICAL: Patsy Dye, manager of the charity Streets2Homes, and solicitor Jackie Brown believe Harlow Council could do more to help the homeless

Ms Brown is one of several solicitors from law firm Peter's & Co who provide free advice once a week at the Wych Elm offices of Streets2Homes, a charity set up to help the homeless.

She said that in just one session she was approached by four people who had not been provided with both forms.

One homeless ex-serviceman, who did not want to be named, told the Star his application for accommodation had been delayed.

"It's outrageous what they're doing," said the man, who has been told he is suffering from post traumatic stress disorder. "I went to the council but they just referred me to the charity.

"But the charity told me I needed to go back to the council to get the correct form. I kept being bounced around from one to the other.

"People need to know that this is how they treat the homeless."

Patsy Dye, outgoing manager of Streets2Homes, said: "The first thing we ask them is if they have registered with the council?"

"It may be the case that the council cannot offer them accommodation straight away, but they could at least listen and help where they can."

Andrew Murray, the council's head of housing, said: "The procedures used to assess whether the council has a legal duty to provide assistance follow Government guidance.

"Due to the complex nature of housing need and individual or family circumstances, the process initially completed for any one particular case will vary depending on its nature and the information provided in support of that application.

"The council always tries to take steps to prevent homelessness and offers a broad range of advice and assistance for those in housing need."

Parties set for election battle be hoping to make it third time lucky in his quest to become the town's MP.

But standing in his way will be Mr Rammell, who is looking to secure a fourth term in office since routing former Tory MP Jerry Hayes in 1997.

Also standing for election will be Liberal Democrat candidate David White, John Croft of the United Kingdom Independence Party and Eddy Butler for the British National Party.

This week Mr Rammell told the Star he was anticipating a two-horse race between Labour and the Conservatives.

"This election is a choice between a future fair for all where we secure the recovery, or change to the Tories that puts the recovery at risk, cuts frontline services and risks future jobs and industries," he said.

"I am campaigning on my record and my commitment to work seven days a week, 365 days a year for people in Harlow."

Mr Halfon needs just a 0.3 per cent swing in the vote to take the seat. With his own battlevan and two campaign songs – Elton John's I'm Still Standing and Mr Blue Sky by ELO – he will be pulling out all the stops to secure victory.

"It's both very exciting and nerve-wracking at the same time," he said. "I'm planning to meet thousands of voters over the course of the month and I'll be doing all I can to convince them to vote Conservative. "This time it's different. People really want a change because they're so fed up with Gordon Brown and I'm getting a fantastic response wherever I go."

Both polls will take place on May 6, meaning people have until 5pm on Tuesday, April 20 to register. Voters also have until this date to register for a postal vote or to cancel or change a previously registered postal or proxy vote.

Anyone wishing to appoint a new proxy to vote on their behalf has until 5pm on Tuesday, April 27 to do so. For more information, contact the Electoral Registration Officer on (01279) 446042.

them to vote Conservative.

"This time it's different. People really want a change because they're so fed up with Gordon Brown and I'm getting a fantastic response wherever I go."

Liberal Democrat candidate Dave White, who is standing in Harlow for the first time since Lorna Spenceley stood down as the party's local candidate, told the Star he was looking forward to the next four weeks of the campaign.

"They are an exciting opportunity for Harlow. With Labour destined to lose, local people have a real choice between 'more of the same' Conservatives and something truly different with the Lib Dems.

"More and more local people are backing our stances. They are saying no to stealth taxes, yes to cleaning up Harlow and fairer national taxes."

Coast-to-coast fundraiser is a family affair

THREE generations from the same family are planning to walk the breadth of England in just 10 days to raise cash for a local gymnastics club.

Graham Ellis (60), his son Greg (35) and grandson Georgie (9) will take on the 192-mile trek in July in aid of South Essex Gymnastics Club.

They will follow a route set out by Alfred Wainwright in one of his classic illustrated guidebooks to the area.

It will take them from St Bees Head on the Irish Sea through the Lake District and the Yorkshire Moors to Robin Hood's Bay on the east coast.

As well as the varied terrain, they will be climbing up to an altitude of over 2,500 feet, making the challenge all the more impressive for the trio.

"It's going to be a tough challenge, make no mistake, but Georgie is a tough lad and he's up for it," said Graham, of Puffins Green, Harlow.

"He has already climbed Helvellyn when he was six and Snowdon when he was seven. But we will be needing to walk around 20 miles every day so it won't be easy."

Rhys pens a winning tale

A SHORT story written by a youngster from Old Harlow has won a prize in a competition run by deaf/blind charity Sense.

Rhys Fullick (12), of Broadway Avenue, was presented with his runners-up award at a ceremony hosted by actress Miriam Margolyes.

She presented him with a certificate and Easter egg at the Express Yourself awards in London for his fun short story entitled Early Ernie and Late Kate.

She also read out the story written by Rhys, who is blind and uses hearing aids.

Miriam said: "My work is about bringing to life the words on a page. These are all powerful words that speak volumes about the very difficult challenges that deaf/blind

Chartered surveyor Graham is a veteran fundraiser, having dedicated 30 years of his life to raising cash for charity by taking part in challenges including running the London Marathon twice and trekking the Himalayas and the Inca Trail.

Over the years he has raised in excess of £500,000 for good causes such as St Clare's Hospice and Cancer Research UK.

The trio want to raise as much as they can to help the gym in Basildon buy new equipment.

The club is a registered charity and currently has six full-time coaches and around 30 part-time coaches serving the Essex and London areas, including Harlow.

Since opening in the early 1990s it has become one of the foremost clubs in the country, with many members going on to national and international success.

Top award for Guide Leanne

A HARLOW teenager was presented with one of the highest commendations a Guide can receive during an awards evening at St Stephens Church Hall.

Leanne George (15) from the 1st Tye Green Guides was presented with the Baden Powell Challenge Award by Avril Brampton, president of Essex West County Guiding.

The Passmore School pupil undertook 10 different challenges to complete the award, including a Baden Powell Adventure.

To do this she attended a weekend in Norfolk at a regional training centre and took part in various outdoor and team building activities.

Guide leader Pauline Gillett, of 1st Tye Green Guides, said: "This is the highest award a guide can achieve in the Guide section programme and it demands commitment to guiding and is also designed to extend their own personal skills."

Leanne, of Bushey Croft, is continuing her guiding as an active member of the Commonsides District Ranger Unit.

Restaurant's charity gift

STAFF at a Harlow curry restaurant raised £500 for the Freemasons' charity appeal.

Diners at Spicemaster, in Commonsides Road, were entertained by a Neil Diamond tribute act and took part in a raffle with more than 40 prizes to raise the cash.

The money will go to the Masonic Grand Charity which will be distributed among many non-Masonic causes across the UK.

Local Freemason Bob Urch thanked the restaurant for the donation, adding: "The amount raised was fantastic."

Cab torched after driver is attacked and robbed

A CAB driver was attacked and robbed by two men he picked up outside a Harlow nightclub.

The 30-year-old cabbie picked up three Asian men from outside Quattro, in The Rows, at around 3.35am on Sunday.

One of the passengers was dropped off in Broadley Common and the remaining two asked him to drive them to Nazeing.

But when he stopped the cab in Hoe Lane, Nazeing, he was grabbed round the throat and throttled until he passed out.

When he regained consciousness he found find the pair going through his pockets and was kicked in the face. The robbers then drove off in the vehicle.

The man's mobile phone and a three-figure sum of cash were inside the vehicle, a silver Toyota Avensis, which was later found completely burnt out in Waltham Abbey.

The cab driver was taken to Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital where he was treated for his injuries.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police at Waltham Abbey CID on 0300 333 4444.

Teen thief faces prison sentence

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

A PROLIFIC teenage criminal who was given one last chance to make a fresh start is now facing the threat of imprisonment after re-offending.

Bradley Wernham (18) walked free from Chelmsford Crown Court last October despite admitting hundreds of offences carried out in Harlow, Bishop's Stortford and Sawbridgeworth.

He was ordered to carry out 150 hours of unpaid community work and was even provided with subsidised accommodation in Chelmsford.

At the time, Judge Christopher Ball warned Wernham that if he ever re-offended he was likely to face imprisonment.

But this week the same court heard Wernham, formerly of Orchard Croft, Harlow, plead guilty to breaching the community order imposed on him by attempting to commit another burglary in Witham earlier this year.

A further charge of causing criminal damage to a window pane worth £100 on the same occasion, an allegation he denied, was ordered to lie on file.

James Howard, representing Wernham, requested a pre-sentence report, telling the court: "Certain activities which were supposed to have occurred didn't and he was followed by police."

He added: "Police [in Chelmsford] were meant to visit him twice a week and police at Harlow were meant to have taken him under their wing but they were warned off because he had moved to Chelmsford.

"Senior officers there didn't want Harlow officers involved. He knew he was being followed and flipped and gave them what they wanted. After media and political focus, he found it difficult."

Remanding Wernham in custody until April 20, Judge Charles Gratwicke ordered an updated pre-sentence report and told the defendant his case would be heard subject to the availability of the original judge.

Wernham had previously admitted committing hundreds of burglaries since the age of 12. His targets included homes, shops and even a Presbyterian church.

He also stole a Mercedes car worth £85,000, an Audi RS4 valued at £50,000, a £50,000 Porsche Cayman and a £30,000 Land Rover Discovery.

When he passed the original sentence last October, Judge Ball told Wernham: "This is a unique solution; we're holding our breaths."

Hats off to bonny bonnets brigade

TODDLERS at a Harlow nursery had an eggs-ellent time showing off their bonnets during a colourful Easter parade.

The tots at Kiddi Caru, in Kiln Lane, made their headwear with help from their parents before taking them in to wear at the preschool's Easter celebrations. The Easter Bunny also hopped in to say hello and leave clues for an exciting egg hunt in the nursery's garden.

Deputy manager Aimee Hume said afterwards: "The children really enjoyed the visit from the Easter Bunny and following his footprints to find the hidden eggs."

"The bonnets they made with help from their mums and dads were brilliant and they had a great time showing off their colourful creations in the parade."

Asking questions is not a smear tactic

SIR, Asking questions about the selection and financial support of candidates seeking to represent Harlow in Parliament are not smears. They are vital if we are to escape from the present climate of Parliamentary sleet.

Robert Halfon appears not to believe these are serious issues and I am afraid has failed to give such information, despite repeated requests for a year. His last letter carefully avoids answering the matters I raised.

It is claimed Lord Ashcroft has donated millions of pounds targeted to seats which the Conservatives are likely to gain in the election. Is Harlow not one of these? Does he or the local party get money indirectly from such 'non doms' as Lord Ashcroft through the Conservative Party to subsidise their campaign?

My questions were non-partisan and were addressed to all three parties. To suggest I am part of a Labour conspiracy is ludicrous. Last year it was claimed I was part of a Conservative conspiracy!

Charles Jackson claims Mr Halfon's financial support is 100 per cent legal. It may well be but whether it is morally or politically acceptable to the electorate of Harlow is another matter. We have still to be told where it comes from.

One thing is certain – that is not what the Electoral Commission says of its investigation into Bearwood Corporate Services donations. Their website clearly states that they were unable to obtain evidence to discover if the Conservative Party was aware of the identity of the donor. The reason for this is remarkably that the Electoral Commission has neither the Fast food outlets could help to keep car park clear of rubbish

SIR, Mick Rumens is spot on with his comments regarding litter and the general state of the environment around Coppice Hatch (Letters, March 25). This is unlikely to improve now that planning permission has been granted, on appeal, for a fast food outlet there.

I would advise Mr Rumens to contact ward councillors with specific complaints; they do listen and can get things done.

With regard to his comments about Staple Tye car park, I am sure that Councillor Tony Hall will be quick to point out that this is private property and therefore the responsibility of the landowner.

I have to say as a daily visitor to Staple Tye that the lady who cleans the car park does an amazing job in all weathers. She is unfailingly cheerful and works with the minimum of equipment. But some of the visitors to the car park have appalling habits when it comes to littering. They drive in, eat and drink and then drop the containers out of the car windows and drive off! Disgraceful.

I am reliably informed that people bring their litter to the car park and stuff it into the litter bins, which partly accounts for why they are frequently overflowing.

It is possible for the council to force the landowner to do better but only if public health was seen to be at risk, so don't hold your breath. Perhaps the fast food outlets could do more in respect of the cleaning of the car park. It would certainly be in their interest and the interest of us all if they did.

John Curry

power to demand documentation from the donor nor to order the attendance of either donor or political party to appear as witnesses and answer questions in its investigations. When the Conservative party officials were requested to attend and give evidence they refused. Hardly evidence of innocence!

I again appeal to all three parties to reveal how their candidates were chosen, how many people were involved in the choice, what is their total full membership and how they are financed. Once upon a time I would have imagined they would have had nothing to hide, but their reluctance to reveal such matters can do nothing but fuel suspicion.

Rev Dennis Nadin
Willowfield, Harlow

Langley football and cricket teams. Thank you all for delivering 4,000 copies of our information leaflet to virtually every house in Church Langley and Potter Street

Thank you, also, to all of those members and parents who then went out again when the distribution company let us down and braved the chilly weather to knock on hundreds of doors to tell residents about all of the proposed projects.

Finally, a big thank you to all those who voted for our project: the parents from the three schools in the area, those who gave us their votes on the muddy touchline or on their doorsteps and those who took an interest in our project.

It was unfortunate that there were problems with the vote but the failure of the distribution company was not essentially of Essex County Council's making. We in the community must applaud the tremendous innovation that is the Essex Community Fund.

Naturally we would have liked to win the full grant and it does mean that we still have to raise about 35 per cent of the cost for the hall, but we in SEHSYA are looking forward to raising the remainder of the funds needed to start our new build and would ask those of you who have given us so much encouragement and support to hang on in there. With your continued support we will succeed.

All part of cut and thrust of debate

SIR, Robert Halfon said he has only received one donation from Lord Ashcroft and that was five years ago (Star, March 18).

An independent investigation covering Conservative Party funding in 2007 and 2008 found that in Harlow, where Labour is defending a wafer-thin majority, the Conservatives received £121,800 (of which £29,084 came from party headquarters) over the two years.

The money streaming out of Tory headquarters is largely funded by Lord Ashcroft and one can only imagine how much more has been paid out since 2008.

I'm sure local Tories don't receive cheques personally made out by Lord Ashcroft but we all know what's going on in Harlow. Recently I received another shiny leaflet from Mr Halfon wishing me a happy St George's Day and in last week's Star we had his usual ad on the front page and a full page two advert full of the usual scare stories and economy with the truth we've come to expect from him.

Questioning the integrity of an election candidate is not a smear and neither is reminding the electorate just why it was that the Tories were practically wiped off of the political map back in 1997. It's the cut and thrust of debate.

Community Fund grant is fantastic

SIR, It is often said community spirit is a thing of the past so I hope you will permit me to bring residents of Church Langley and Potter Street up to date and to publicly thank Essex County Council for the fantastic grant of £33,333 from the Community Fund towards our project.

For those who haven't heard, the South East Harlow Sports & Youth Association aims to provide a hall, a youth club, a music centre for use by the whole community and a clubhouse for the more than 300 local young people and the many adults who play sport on the playing fields behind Tesco.

We would like to thank all those in Potter Street and Church Langley who completed our questionnaire and survey and gave us their support, to all supporters of the project and to all of the volunteers from Langley Colts Youth FC and from the Potter Street and Church

Why spoil such a beautiful sight?

SIR, I had been looking forward to the first days of spring so that I could enjoy the sight of the daffodils that some of my neighbours had gone to the trouble of planting in our local woods.

The day finally arrived when the daffs bloomed and were a glorious sight to behold, surely enjoyed by everyone who passed by. Imagine my disgust on the second day to see that some of the blooms had been trampled on while others had been picked and thrown to the ground.

I can understand why a child would pick wild flowers to take home to their mother but not why anyone would pick them and leave them there to die. The person who carried out this deed has obviously not been taught respect either for the environment or their neighbours.

Stop blaming OAP bus passes for cuts

SIR, Councillor Tony Hall once again blames the cost of bus passes for the cuts that this administration is making (Letters, March 25). Since they have taken control of Harlow Council, this Tory administration has made swingeing cuts. Each time a cut has been made they quote the cost of the bus passes.

When they were cutting the grant to the welfare rights and advice service, Councillor Simon Carter stood up and quoted the cost of the bus pass. Let me make something quite clear, the money the Government gives local councils to pay for bus passes is not ring-fenced. That means councils can spend this money on anything they care to.

If, as Cllr Hall claims, there is an acute shortage of money in the council purse, would it not have been prudent to increase the council tax? And if that is true, why aren't these caring councillors taking a drop in their expenses?

I understand the cost of swimming to pensioners will be around the £3 mark for each session. If you are receiving £5,000 a year in expenses on top of your pension it is of little worry, but if like most pensioners you are on £97 a week it is hard to find.

But we must remember that is was his political party that took away the link to earnings. If it hadn't, the pension today would be £160 a week. So I say to Harlow pensioners, think about it and ask questions. You have your vote in May.

We never see any police on the beat

SIR, I would like to know exactly how many real police officers we have on the beat in Harlow and how many community support officers and specials we have to patrol our 12 square miles.

Why are they rarely seen walking around but always seen thrashing around in police car with blue lights and sirens?

In my area of Katherines and Sumners we only ever see one a month if we are very lucky when a police car drives past, but never anyone walking the beat here or other out-of-the-way areas.

I wonder why we need either the community support officers or the specials, although the specials are needed more than the PCSOs as they have the full range of powers and do seem a touch more professional.

I have heard PCSOs moaning they want CS gags and batons so people think they are real police. This attitude clearly shows me they are not right for the job.

It is quality we all want and with far better conflict management skills which they all seem to sadly lack.

Grateful thanks to a very honest lady

SIR, I would be most grateful if you could pass on my thanks to the very kind lady who handed my lost wallet into Harlow Police Station on Sunday, March 21.

Like most men of my age, my wallet contained everything from credit cards to postage stamps and what little money it contained was still in there on its return.

In times when people are very quick to complain and point out the bad in people, this very honest lady proves to me that there is always far more good that outweighs the evil.

The police are not allowed to disclose the address to me of the person that I would most like to thank but hopefully she will read this letter and feel a sense of pride that she has made someone extremely happy.

Labour's fury at 'rents rise propaganda'

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

FURIOUS Labour councillors have accused Harlow's Conservative-run administration of using a taxpayer-funded magazine as a "political platform" to criticise the Government.

The latest issue of Harlow Homes, which is distributed with the council's Harlow Times, features a full page article headed "Low rent rise for tenants" in which housing committee chairman Lee Dangerfield explains why the authority rejected a Government offer of subsidy in return for lower rent increases.

In the article Cllr Dangerfield states the council would have been left out of pocket to the tune of £1.5m and so rejected the offer "in the interests of protecting services for tenants".

Under the Local Government Act, using council publications or property for political purposes is strictly forbidden.

This week Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson branded the article "unacceptable" and said he had already lodged a complaint with council chief executive Malcolm Morley.

"Lee Dangerfield's decision to put politics on the front page of Harlow Home magazine – taxpayer-funded information – is out of order," he fumed.

"This just proves the Tories are becoming jittery over our campaign to reduce rents for council tenants."

"The article fails to point out that Tory-controlled Harlow is now one of only two councils across the country not accepting the Government's offer."

"The council's decision was political choice on the administration's part and I am extremely concerned that Harlow Council appears to be using council-funded publicity to justify these political choices to Harlow residents."

But Cllr Dangerfield responded: "I think any member could say that they do not believe they have broken the local government code on publicity."

"The articles in the Harlow Times are checked by officers and as far as I know senior officers do not believe that the content of the article would amount to such a breach."

Happy ending for mum hit with parking fine after giving birth

A MUM who got a parking ticket shortly after giving birth on Mother's Day has had the charge quashed.

Kim Worby (30) could not believe it when she was given the £40 penalty while parked outside Princess Alexandra Hospital's birthing unit because she had been assured she would not be ticketed.

To make matters worse, Kim, of Malkin Drive, Harlow, was so busy after the birth of her son Charlie that she forgot to pay the charge within the given time limit and the fine was raised to £100.

When she and her partner, Keith Clarke, contacted the company responsible for enforcing parking regulations she said they were shown little sympathy.

"When we arrived at the hospital everything started to happen really quickly," said Kim. "Keith didn't have time to move the car."

"The midwife said that it would be fine to park there and to leave a note on the window. At 11.15am, an hour after my baby was born, we got a parking ticket."

"My father spoke to the parking attendant and explained the situation. He said he still had to issue the ticket but if we wrote to the company to appeal he was sure they would revoke it given the circumstances."

PRIDE AND JOY:

"We have written but they said we had to pay the fine. I know that parking regulations and controls are important, but I was in the middle of labour – and it was Mother's Day."

But when the Star contacted the hospital authorities a spokesman confirmed that the fine would be quashed.

He said: "We apologise for the obvious misunderstanding about the parking arrangement outside the maternity department. Excel Parking, who manage the parking on site, are currently investigating Ms Worby's ticket."

"It must be emphasised that parking restrictions are in place to ensure the safety of all patients and visitors to the hospital site, and to allow access to ambulances and other emergency vehicles."

Miss Worby described the news as "fantastic".

Hospice fundraisers take a leap of faith

FALL GUYS: Four of the daredevils who took then plunge

DAREDEVILS took a leap of faith for charity on Saturday at a sponsored bungee jump to raise funds for St Clare Hospice.

A total of 32 people turned up at North Weald Airfield to take part in the event, which formed part of the hospice's 20th anniversary celebrations.

Together they raised a dizzying £8,800 towards the Hastingwood hospice's day-to-day running costs.

Communications manager Giles Wright told the Star: "It's the first time we've ever tried an event of this kind and we were really delighted with the turnout.

"The weather was fantastic and our very own Tracy Stratford even put on the straps and dared to take the plunge. She said it was one of the best experiences she's ever had!"

"The bungee jump was just one of a number of fun events we've planned to help celebrate our 20th anniversary this year and those who missed out this time still have plenty of opportunities to help raise vital funds for the hospice."

Midnight Walk off to a slow start so sign up now for a fun night out

WITH just two months to go before this year's Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice, the number of people registering to take part is lagging behind this time last year.

"We've got hundreds of sign up forms just waiting to be filled out to make this year's walk bigger and pinker than ever before," said events fundraiser Tracy Stratford, pictured right.

"By this time last year we had already received over 300 entries but this year we haven't so far seen as many. We're hoping that the Easter holiday may have affected the take-up a little and that the forms will start flooding in now.

"It's difficult with so many other charity events taking place at the same time and with money being tight for everyone, but we're hoping that we can exceed last year's total of 1,600 walkers raising £120,000."

Anyone interested in taking part but who has yet to sign up can do so online, by phone or by filling out the form to request a registration application.

This year's walk, which once again is being supported by the Star, takes place on Saturday, June 19. The 10k route starts off from the Water Gardens and follows a route along the footpaths and cycle tracks of Harlow and Old Harlow. Many of the walkers will be wearing flashing bunny ears and carrying glow sticks to light the way.

"It's an amazing sight seeing Harlow lit up and turned pink for St Clare," said Georgie Wright, who took part in last year's walk. "We did it in memory of my sister-in-law who was cared for at the hospice; it was a fantastic way to remember her in a positive way and a lovely way to spend an evening with the girls."

Tracy added: "Everyone takes part for different reasons but the night is about fun, laughter and remembering the special care St Clare gives every day of the year.

"People sign up to have a night out with a difference, others to remember someone close to them and others because they are pink potty!"

So, come on, what are you waiting for? Make a note in your diary, invite your friends and family and sign up today to help St Clare Hospice celebrate its 20th year.

New shops boost for regeneration of town centre

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW'S town centre continues to hold its own in the current economic downturn with the imminent opening of a number of new stores.

National clothing giants Wallis and Burton are taking concessionary space inside the BHS store in the Harvey Centre, while three new shops will soon be trading in The High.

Burton will take on 20 per cent of an enlarged menswear space while Wallis will take over around one third of the womenswear area. Both concessions are scheduled to open on April 15.

BHS manager Paul Green said: "We are really excited about the new product looks coming in to supplement our BHS offers."

Outside in Broad Walk, the former Burton store has now been taken on by a manufacturer selling big name clothing brands. Trading as Why Not, the store will sell men and women's clothes at clearance prices.

Two doors down in the former Moben showroom, pawnbrokers Harvey & Thompson are in the process of fitting out the premises for a grand opening later this month.

One of the UK's fastest-growing businesses, Harvey & Thompson will be the first company to occupy the former kitchen showroom in more than two years.

And smoking charity Quit, which was set up to raise awareness of smoking-related diseases and encourage smokers to give up the habit, has taken on the lease at the former First Direct travel shop.

Town centre development manager Richard Dennerly said: "Over the past three years Harlow has moved from having a town centre with one of the highest percentages of empty units in the country to a town boasting a below average ratio at the end of last year.

"With the opening of three more shops we are taking another great step in regenerating the town."

Jail for robber who attacked two women on same night

A MAN previously cleared of a series of attacks on vulnerable females has been jailed for three years for violently mugging two women on the same night.

Michael Kayode was acquitted of charges of rape, sexual assault, robbery and attempted robbery by a jury last April but warned by the judge that the allegations against him could be brought up in any future trial as "similar fact" evidence.

On Tuesday Kayode (24), of Moorfield, Harlow, pleaded guilty to two robberies in which he attacked two women and stole handbags containing a purse, wallet, bank cards, passports, and cash.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard the first mugging took place in an alleyway in Rivermill on November 27 last year.

The victim was pushed to the floor and struck on the head. A minute-long struggle ensued before Kayode ran off with her handbag.

He struck again two hours later in Third Avenue, punching his second victim twice before running off into a wooded area.

She managed to bite her attacker but suffered swelling to her right hip and an injured spine.

Kayode was later arrested at his flat after being tracked by a police dog.

Henry Hughes, representing Kayode, said in mitigation the defendant felt anger and shame over the offences which he said were "amateurish and ill-conceived with zero sophistication".

Jailing him for three years, Judge Laura Harris told Kayode: "These were two extremely unpleasant street robberies. The two women were targeted because they were on their own in quiet and dark places."

Motorcyclist dies in crash

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to an accident in which a motorcyclist was killed.

The accident happened at Harlow Common at about 8pm on Tuesday.

The victim, who had not been named by police as the Star went to press but who is said to be a local man, was riding a red Yamaha motorcycle.

He was certified dead at the scene of the accident.

Police said yesterday (Wednesday) it did not appear that any other vehicle was involved.

Anyone who witnessed the crash or saw the motorcyclist before the incident should call PC Simon Willsher at the Chigwell road policing unit on 0300 333 4444.

Easter in the classroom

SCHOOLCHILDREN across Harlow have been taking part in a range of eggs-iting activities to celebrate Easter.

Youngsters at JEROUNDS INFANTS, left, went hopping mad for sweet treats when the Easter Bunny paid a surprise visit to the Pyenest Road school on the last day of term to hand out chocolate eggs.

Pictured with their VIP guest are Jamie Moore (5), Sonny Legallienne (5), Jamie Dignam (5), Jack Mackay (4), Keira Martin (5) and Lauren Snell (5)

They also showed off their creative side by decorating eggs before strutting their stuff in a colourful parade.

And toddlers at IDA NURSERIES, below, turned sleuths for the day as they dressed up as bunnies for an Easter egg hunt in the High Wych pre-school's grounds.

They were then joined by staff, who also dressed as rabbits, to make brightly-coloured cardboard chick masks to take home and show to their families.

Gang steals teens' cash and mobiles

A GROUP of teenagers were robbed by six men in Edinburgh Gate, Harlow, on Friday night.

The thieves – three white men and three black men – threatened the youngsters and then stole their cash and mobile phones

Police want to talk to anyone who was in the Edinburgh Gate area around the time of the robbery which took place at 10.50pm.

They are asked to call police at Harlow on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Cop who lied on crash form quits police force

A POLICE officer who lied on a claim form after his uninsured girlfriend had an accident in his car has been given a suspended prison sentence for perverting the course of justice.

Christopher Sheldrick, who served with Essex Police for five years before transferring to the Met two years ago, resigned from his £31,000 a year post after he was convicted last month.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Sheldrick (42), of Jocelyns, Old Harlow, had claimed he was driving the car when it reversed into an unattended vehicle in The Oaks retail park in Harlow last September. However, witnesses said they saw a woman behind the wheel of the car which drove off without stopping.

The court heard Sheldrick's partner, Sharon Mitchell, was only a learner driver and was not insured to drive his car.

Sheldrick, who served in the Armed Forces for 15 years before joining the police, claimed he had not intended to mislead. He said he had not noticed any collision so when the form arrived he did not know what incident it referred to and failed to put "two and two together".

On Thursday Judge Christopher Ball sentenced him to three months in prison suspended for 18 months, and ordered him to complete 100 hours of unpaid community work as well as pay £3,000 prosecution costs.

The judge told him: "This was a momentary aberration although you do have a capacity to behave in a moment of crisis in an irrational and improper way.

"Here, the situation arose where the straightforward, honest and decent thing to do was to stop and sort it out there and then. But panic set in and off you drove and then it was compounded by you trying to cover up what actually happened."

Nicholas Yeo, representing Sheldrick, said in mitigation he had lost his good character but had "done the decent thing" by resigning from the force immediately and reimbursing the other driver his claim for damages

"In total he has spent eight years in the police and before that 15 years in the Armed Forces," said Mr Yeo. "He saw active service in the first Gulf War and in Bosnia and did a tour in the Falklands.

"He has given all his working life to serving the public and serving his country."

MP says stamp duty 'holiday' is good news for first timers

HOME HELP:

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell said the decision by the Chancellor of the Exchequer to scrap stamp duty for first-time buyers will quadruple the number of properties in the town available to people seeking to climb on the property ladder.

Mr Rammell made his comments when he met student and prospective first-time buyer Laura Conway (20) and Glyn Hopping, managing director of Barratts North London, at the company's housing development in Fifth Avenue.

Under the two-year scheme, first time buyers will not have to pay stamp duty on properties up to the value of £250,000. It could save them up to £2,500.

Laura said: "This stamp duty holiday will significantly improve my chances of being able to own my own home in the near future.

"I am currently a student and all I want is to be able to look forward to the chance of getting a good job and my own home when I graduate. This help from the Government gets me closer to this."

Mr Rammell said: "This is absolutely great news for first-time buyers in Harlow.

"It dramatically increases the number of properties accessible to first-time buyers and could mean the difference between someone being able to purchase their first property and not."

Handy way to use a gadget!

IT may sound like something out of a sci-fi movie but you could soon be controlling your favourite gadgets by simply tapping parts of your body!

Technology whizzes at Skinput have invented a lightweight gadget that can beam the interactive menus of gadgets like mobile phones and iPods directly onto your skin.

To make a call you can simply press the numbers where they appear on your arm. A sensor will track your movements and dial whatever number is put in.

The same principle would apply when using the interactive menus on a personal MP3 player.

Although the device is still being developed and won't be in the shops for a while, its developers believe it will revolutionise the way we control our favourite personal gadgets.

Creator Chris Harrison told reporters: "The wonderful thing about the human body is that we are familiar with it.

"Even if I spin you around in circles and tell you to touch your fingertips behind your back, you'll be able to do it. That gives people a lot more accuracy than we have ever had with a mouse.

"The human body is the ultimate input device."

Easter visitor is a hit with the kids

CHILDREN on a Harlow housing estate were on the receiving end of an act of egg-travagant generosity when they were visited by the Easter Bunny.

Chocolate eggs and bunnies were handed out to youngsters living at Berecroft by the Easter VIP who was given a helping hand by police community support officers.

Members of the Berecroft Residents' Association were also there to help with the handout. Chairman Zulquar Cheema said: "It was a slow start but we found some children who then went off and found some more kids.

"The word spread very quickly as soon as they knew chocolate was on offer."

It is the second year running there has been an Easter giveaway on the estate. All the eggs and toys were donated by local businesses.

Pictured with the Easter Bunny and PCSO Karen Rogers are Jack Wright (10), Molly Wright (8), Daryl Jokonya (7), Ernest Jokonya (1), Wilson Jokonya (9) and Kennedy Mupoba (5).

From a manor house to school classrooms

From the Star
25 years ago

IN recent weeks we've taken a look at the history of Mark Hall Manor which is charted in a new book produced by the Friends of Harlow Museum.

Much of the manor was destroyed in a fire in 1947 and later flattened, but a Victorian wing of the building did survive and between 1951 and 1960 became a school. House building started nearby as part of the new town in 1949, but Tany's Dell and Mark Hall schools – the first in the area – were not completed until later.

So, as a temporary solution, children from the first families in Harlow were schooled in the old building which was quickly installed with the essentials for a classroom.

The first school there was called Mark Hall County Primary, then later as an annexe to Tany's Dell.

Former Star deputy editor Bridget McAlpine remembers: "This was the time that Harlow was known as 'Pram Town' because there were so many young families in the town and everywhere you went the pavements were cluttered with prams!

"Consequently, Tany's Dell was

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk bursting at the seams and Essex education department turned to the old building to provide much-needed additional classroom space.

"I was one of the small children who attended Tany's Dell annexe, or Mark Hall mansion as it was popularly known, and although I can't remember much about the building itself I still have strong memories of playing in the lovely grounds which were quite heavily wooded.

"At that time, Henry Moore's Family Group sculpture – long recognised as the symbol for Harlow – stood on the edge of the annexe's play area behind St Mary-at-Latton Church hall, and we kids loved to climb on it and sit in the father's lap!

"I cringe at the thought of it now and I'm so glad the sculpture is now on show from the safety of the Civic Centre.

"Tany's Dell annexe was pulled down in the late 1950s or early 1960s and happily the site has been left untouched.

"The wooded area is thriving and I'm sure must be a haven for wildlife. It's certainly an attractive corner of the Mark Hall play area."

CAN YOU HELP?

CAN you help solve the mystery surrounding these photographs of events past taking place in Harlow?

Could it be the long gone annual Harlow Carnival? Or could they be of another event such as when TV show It's A Knockout came to the town?

The Nostalgia desk has no information on the images which are owned by Harlow resident Norma Nugent.

If you know what these pictures show or have any memories you would like to share with our readers send us an email to daniel.phillips@hertsessex news.co.uk or write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

'Experiments' denial

Allegations that cats and dogs are being used in experiments at pharmaceutical company Merck Sharp and Dohme's new research centre on the outskirts of Harlow have been denied. Experiments at the Terlings Park centre were restricted to rats, mice and guinea pigs, an MSD spokesman said.

Chemical spill on M11

A full-scale alert was sounded when an articulated lorry shed a load of poisonous chemicals on the M11. The lorry burst a tyre and careered out of control down a bank. Motorists with eye or skin irritations have been advised go to hospital immediately.

Talks on pay dispute

Both sides in the teachers' pay dispute in Essex thought arbitration was the best solution, a union spokesman claimed. The idea was discussed at a meeting between Essex County Council and unions.

Tory slams Spain trip

A Labour councillor's £350 trip to Spain for a conference on nuclear free zones has been slammed as "a complete waste of ratepayers' money" by Tory leader Linda Atkins. Cllr Bill Hanley attended a four-day conference in Cordoba.

Courtlands Skips

COURTLANDS Skips saves you money and the environment.

As landfill tax increases by £8 per ton every year – now at £48 per ton – it's likely that the price of skip hire will increase, too. However, Courtlands Skips is combating this by continued and extensive recycling of the skip waste you produce.

Quite simply, the company recycles more and landfills less with recycling rates of 85 per cent, ensuring skips are cheaper. Courtlands Skips has a strong reputation in Harlow and the your Aga into its new position.

The business specialises in flues and is Gas Safe and Oftec registered, so it can assist you throughout the entire process.

If you would like the warmth of an Aga in your kitchen, Erikson Services offers a site survey to assess your requirements, give an estimate of costs and help find the perfect Aga to suit your budget. You can also visit www.twyford-cookers.com for further information. Erikson Services is a recommended installer.

You're Furnished

FURNISH your home at a fraction of the usual cost with a visit to one of the You're Furnished furniture warehouses.

In the current economic climate we're all looking for ways to save money without compromising on quality. You're Furnished sells exactly the same furniture as well-known high street stores but at half the cost.

There are two You're Furnished warehouses at Stansted and Bangers Green, Takeley. Each has a huge range of sofas, dining and bedroom furniture and kitchen displays.

Selling high volumes of furniture as well as being located in modest buildings means costs and prices are kept to a minimum. There's no hard sell – you're free to wander round at your leisure, but if you need help the experienced team will be more than happy to assist you. When you've made your choice, most items are available to take away on the day or can be delivered within a day or so.

You're Furnished warehouses are at 14 Cambridge Road, Stansted CM24 8BZ (telephone (01279) 815028) and Waltham Hall Industrial Estate, Waltham Hall Farm, Bangers Green, Takeley CM22 6PF (telephone 07855 116264).

>>at the square

>>TONIGHT This evening's motley bunch of Incoming hopefuls include Aldershot prog-pop hotshots Our Lost Infantry, dreamy folk-popsters Olympians and grizzled skyscraping post-rockers There Were Bears. Doors open at 8pm and entry costs £4 (free admission for members).

>>FRIDAY For those of you lucky enough to have already bought tickets, The Blockheads will be bringing their unique brand of funk-infused pop-punk to a sold-out show at The Square tonight. For those of you not paying attention, you're set to miss out on a rare performance from one of this sceptred isle's greatest-ever pop bands. Hang your heads in shame.

>>SATURDAY It's time to break out the Kool Aid and party like it's 1969. Psychedelic showcase Feed Yer Head is back with another brain-melting bill of lysergic loveliness featuring Nukli, Deviant Amps, Poyeti Guru and Pandemonium. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £6 (£5 members).

Take a trip on the Yellow Brick Road

A MAGICAL new adaptation of timeless family fantasy The Wizard of Oz will prove there's no place like The Playhouse when it opens next week.

Produced by New World Productions — the team behind last year's hugely successful pantomime production of Cinderella — the show opens on Tuesday with a star-studded cast, dazzling sets and lavish costumes.

Celebrity funnyman Joe Pasquale, right, stars as Scarecrow while Dani Harmer, known to millions of youngsters as Traci Beaker from the smash-hit television series, takes the lead role of Dorothy.

Producer Gary Telfer said: "We're really looking forward to coming back to the Playhouse with this fantastic Easter show."

"We had a great time at Christmas with our first pantomime at the theatre and we're planning to give people in the area another quality event during the Easter holidays.

Director Guy Pascall added: "It's going to be great fun for all the family, both young and old alike. Everyone remembers such great characters as the Cowardly Lion and the Tin Man who needs a heart."

"This show will take the original story written by L. Frank Baum and give it a new twist as only New World Productions can!"

The show runs until Sunday, with performances beginning at 2.30pm and 7.30pm from Tuesday and Saturday and at 2pm and 6pm on Sunday.

Tickets, which are selling fast, can be purchased from the theatre box office on (01279) 431945 priced at £17 (£15 children).

Graceful Coppelia was an absolute delight to behold

REVIEW

Coppelia
Harlow Ballet Company
The Playhouse, Harlow

MY husband does not like ballet, or so he says. But he went — reluctantly — to see Harlow Ballet's production of Coppelia and came out raving about it. What a splendid show it was, and so well performed. The audience were told that due to the indisposition of Paul Tarling, the part of Franz was to be danced by Brett Shiels to whom all thanks and praise must be given.

It appeared that he and the girl dancing Swanhilda, Sophie Hull, had never danced together before that evening. Now I have once seen this happen in the professional theatre but never thought to see it in an amateur show.

This only serves to point up the incredibly high standard that Harlow Ballet demand from their pupils. Brett is a professional dancer but Sophie is only 14 years old, yet her performance was both assured and confident, a delight to watch. You could have been excused for thinking they had danced together for years.

It is good to see that four young boys have taken up the challenge of ballet, a field requiring extreme dedication, both mental and physical ability and great strength, as well as a firm musical ear.

Sam Whitome is a name to remember and I am sure that we will see more of him in the future as his dancing had great maturity and strength. Male dancers need more than technique and to any young lad who feels that this is a 'sissy' hobby I suggest they try lifting an eight stone girl off the floor to chest height, holding her there, standing rock steady whilst she moves around, and then putting her gently back on the ground.

We were also treated to a delicious cameo performance by Hamish Scott, a young man who never ceases to enchant.

The performance of Sophie Hull as Swanhilda was a delightful soufflé, sweet and light but firmly held together, and her girl friends were a joy to watch. The adults in the show were most enjoyable and managed to convey that enjoyment to their audience, while the tiny children were sweet in the way of small people everywhere, large eyes, great concentration and big smiles.

With such a large cast it seems invidious to single out any one person but special mention must be made of the captivating Natasha Jones as Dawn, and a relative newcomer to principal parts, Katie Mehew, as a delightfully sincere Prayer. Finally, a special mention must be made of Michael Branwell who played the Machiavellian Doctor Coppellius.

If this production can be compared to anything then it must surely be a swan — all beauty, grace and movement as it sailed across the stage.

All in all it was a magnificent night out and I am only sorry that, by the time this review comes out, the show will be over. If you missed seeing these performances then I suggest that you make a mental note to go to the Playhouse if this company ever decides to reprise Coppelia... or indeed to see any other of their shows.

High school teenager is superhero crimefighter

KICK-ASS certificate 15 1h57m

BEING a superhero is a dangerous business in Matthew Vaughn's coming-of-age tale based on the comic written by Mark Millar and John S Romita Jr. Kick-Ass is a thrilling, hilarious and at times heartbreaking portrait of teen angst that will undoubtedly raise eyebrows for its heady combination of foul-mouthed, sword-wielding children and graphic violence.

Yet, as recent headlines have brought home with chilling clarity, too many of our youngsters roam the streets with concealed weapons. Childhood innocence died a long time ago.

Kick-Ass taps into modern day lawlessness and senseless brutality by pitting one regular teenager, without a single super power to his cumbersome name against real-life bad guys capable of killing him with a single blow to the head.

Geeky teenager Dave Lizewski (Aaron Johnson) lives with his father (Garrett M Brown) in New York where he attends high school and admires unattainable classmate Katie Deauxma (Lyndsy Fonseca) from afar.

During a conversation with comic-book obsessed pals Marty (Clark Duke) and Todd (Evan Peters), Dave wonders aloud if a normal guy could transform himself into a bona fide superhero. Consequently, the teenager buys a wetsuit off the internet and becomes the heroic Kick-Ass.

Unfortunately, his first forays into crimefighting end with serious blood loss and a trip to the hospital.

Then the mysterious Big Daddy (Nicolas Cage) and Hit Girl (Chloe Grace Moretz) – aka unfairly disgraced cop Damon Macready and his daughter Mindy – answer the call to arms, thwarting the ambitions of kingpin Frank D'Amico (Mark Strong). When D'Amico decides to fight back with the help of his son Chris, Dave is suddenly at the centre of a battle between good and evil. Kick-Ass is an incendiary, fast-paced jaunt though the Big Apple in the company of two motherless youngsters who discover their strength behind the masks of their alter egos.

Action sequences are directed at a breathless pace by Vaughn – notably a night vision shootout and the storming of D'Amico's rooftop headquarters – but the visceral thrills never come at the expense of our emotional connection to the characters.

They kick ass and we silently cheer them, with clenched fists, from the aisles.

>>still on screen

>>>CLASH OF THE TITANS As a baby, Perseus (Sam Worthington) is rescued from the sea by fisherman Spyros (Pete Postlethwaite), unaware that he is actually the demi-god son of Zeus (Liam Neeson). Hades (Ralph Fiennes), the god of the underworld, causes the death of Perseus' new family and the young man vows revenge. He gets his chance when Hades curses Argos and its rulers and threatens to unleash the Kraken upon the city unless they sacrifice their beautiful daughter Andromeda (Alexa Davalos) to the behemoth.

>>>NANNY MCPHEE & THE BIG BANG This sequel to 2005's original Nanny McPhee introduces the mysterious nanny (Emma Thompson) to a family in crisis in wartime Britain. This time she lends a hand when trouble brews after a group of city kids come to stay on a farm and fall out with the local children.

>>>THE BLIND SIDE Sandra Bullock delivers an eye-catching turn as crusading southern mom Leigh Anne Touhy in Memphis, Tennessee. Driving home one night, Leigh spots Michael Oher (Quinton Aaron) wandering along the road and offers the homeless, black teenager a room. The matriarch encourages the lad to improve his grades and chase the possibility of an American football scholarship.

>>>REMEMBER ME Robert Pattinson stars as Tyler Hawkins, the black sheep of a wealthy New York family, in Allen Coulter's bittersweet tale of young love. Tyler agrees to woo his classmate Ally (Emilie de Ravin) purely to spite her overprotective father (Chris Cooper) but they fall head over heels in love, drawn to each other because of their deep emotional wounds. The events of 9/11 impact deeply on the characters as they emerge shell-shocked from the devastation and struggle to piece their lives back together again.

>>>BOUNTY HUNTER When Milo Boyd (Gerard Butler) divorced his then wife Nicole (Aniston), he thought that was the end of the misery. But all those old emotional wounds are about to be re-opened in Andy Tennant's fast-paced romantic comedy. Now working as a bounty hunter, Milo is hired to track down his reporter ex-wife, who has jumped bail. When he finally catches up with Nicole, Milo finds himself on the run for his life too and the two former lovebirds have to put their many and obvious differences to one side to avoid their pursuers.

>>>SHUTTER ISLAND The lunatics are taking over the asylum, or that's what Martin Scorsese's impeccably crafted psychological thriller would have us believe. Scorsese is all at sea on the Boston Harbor Islands and, for all its style, Shutter Island is a largely predictable and pedestrian yarn, elevated by a superior cast, including Leonardo DiCaprio, Mark Ruffalo and Sir Ben Kingsley.

>>just for kids

>>>PLANET 51 The computer-animated comedy unfolds on a world far from ours where little green men, women and child live in domestic bliss. But the crash-landing of a dim-witted American astronaut (voiced by Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson) causes chaos.

>>>HOTEL FOR DOGS Two enterprising children transform a run-down hotel into a pooches' paradise for the waifs and strays of the city.

>>>ALIENS IN THE ATTIC A group of children must protect their holiday home from invading aliens.

Dragons tale a delight

HOW TO TRAIN YOUR DRAGON certificate PG 1h37m

DREAMWORKS' How To Train Your Dragon has invention and emotion in abundance and will delight audiences of all ages with its lush visuals and smart script. Young Viking Hiccup (voiced by Jay Baruchel) aspires to hunt dragons so joins feisty Astrid, Fishlegs, Snotlout and the twins Ruffnut and Tuffnut in the training ring where they learn to cope with all manner of fire-breathing creatures.

But unbeknown to the other recruits, Hiccup has befriended an injured dragon and has nursed the creature back to health. As the bond between animal and boy deepens, Hiccup questions everything he has ever been told.

You'll sell my home?
and pay my mortgage?

Yes.

We could find your next home. And pay for it for a whole year.

At Intercounty we do estate agency differently. So differently that we could pay your mortgage for 12 months. Buy or sell your home with us before the end of June and you'll have a chance of winning this unique prize*. This is not just another competition. But we're not just another estate agent. Come in and visit us at our office or find out more online at:

Intercounty

NOT ANOTHER ESTATE AGENCY.

*For full terms and conditions please visit www.intercounty.co.uk. To be eligible for the free prize draw, you need to buy or sell your house through Intercounty which must have legally completed by 30 June 2010. If you are the prize winner, we will pay up to a maximum value of £1000 per month for a 12 month period towards your mortgage re-payments.

Cabriolet with pure Class

Cutting-edge technology and clever innovations clubbed with good looks and spaciousness makes the E350 CGI Cabriolet an excellent machine. RICHARD M HAMMOND takes it for a drive.

The astonishingly vast Mercedes-Benz line-up has become a little simpler of late, with the CLK coupe and cabriolet models being replaced by new versions badged E-Class.

If there is a German equivalent of the Plain English Campaign, it may well be jumping with Teutonic joy. The CLK experiment was a highly successful one for Mercedes, with the rebranded E-Class variants proving more popular than ever, but much of that was surely down to the quality of the vehicles as it was the allure of a more exotic moniker.

The E-Class badge allows the uninitiated, or those simply daunted by a list of prefixes that would give a computer programmer nightmares, more of an insight into what's on offer in terms of size and the place in the range.

Ironically, as identification has become simpler, the car itself has become more complicated. Always a leader in technology and innovations, Mercedes has not been resting on its laurels with the new E-Class Cabriolet.

3.5-litre petrol unit developing 288bhp
7-speed automatic driving the rear wheels

32.8mpg
206g/km

The big development comes in the shape of the new AirCap system. A simple idea neatly executed, the AirCap extends from the top of the window frame and acts as a frontal deflector sending the airflow arcing over the top of the car and improving interior refinement with the roof down. It works well, although the effects are more noticeable for rear seat passengers. There's a much reduced degree of buffeting at speed, extending the options for top-down driving as the reduced air movement within the cabin allows a steady temperature to be maintained using the climate control and, for front seat passengers, the neck warming AirScarf system.

Using the same two-door, four-seat layout as the E-Class Coupe, the new Cabriolet features a canvas roof. It's a very discreet piece of canvas, however, with the vehicles rising belt line only requiring a small piece of fabric to cover the occupants. The Cabriolet manages to retain the same enormous glass house as the Coupe, an impressive feat that aids visibility and gives the cabin an airy feel.

Stowing in less than 20 seconds, the roof takes a chunk out of the reasonably accommodating boot space but leaves a delicious profile in its absence. On the way back up it pours into place in an eerily hushed manner, with the exception of a reassuring clunk as it hooks into the windscreen frame.

A range of three diesel and four petrol engines is available on the new model, all boasting the BlueEfficiency badge with the exception of the range topping E500 V8.

The 3.5-litre 288bhp unit in the E350 CGI seems particularly well suited to the E-Class Cabriolet. Naturally more refined than the impressive diesel units, its performance doesn't fall far short of the range topping model, all be it without the distinctive V8 rumble.

Mercedes' seven-speed automatic transmission is a key component in the model's driveability, too. It offers a range of ratios that means the E350 CGI is never caught wanting. Slick changes come quickly at low speed cruising, upping the pace and selecting the sport option allows the gears to be held for longer, wringing out the power from the top of the rev range.

It's reactive enough to negate the need to use the paddle shifters and the model's responsive chassis can be enjoyed using the fully auto setting.

The light canvas roof and chunky, high-shouldered body means the E-Class Cabriolet feels solid roof up or down, with scuttle shake virtually eradicated and an ability to ride bumps that's within touching distance of the E-Class saloon.

And thanks to a spacious cabin, the impressive level of interior refinement and high quality materials can be enjoyed by four occupants.

A genuine four-seater, the rear can comfortably accept two adults with large doors and automatic sliding seats making it easy to access.

With its high end specification and clever innovations, the E-Class Cabriolet is not a simple car, but adhering to a list of simple qualities such as refinement, good looks and spaciousness makes the E350 CGI Cabriolet simply excellent.

Essex Community Support

Harlow Area

Hours 16- 21hrs per week

Salary £7.66 - £8.15 per hr plus enhancements

I am looking for dedicated and flexible individuals to join the Reablement team in the Harlow areas, to provide support to vulnerable adults within their own homes.

You will be helping these adults to achieve their goals and aspirations to lead a more independent life living in their communities.

There will be some personal care involved as we support service users who have returned from hospital after a period of ill health.

You will need to travel throughout an operational area which covers Harlow & Uttlesford, therefore the use of a car for work purpose is essential, and unless you are able to demonstrate that you can undertake the travelling by an effective alternative method of transport.

This service operates between 7am -11pm Monday to Sunday so the successful applicants will need to be reasonably flexible with your working availability, this will include working weekends and bank holidays on a rostered basis, and this will incur an enhanced rate of pay. We have positions for am only workers and pm only workers.

We also offer mileage and travel time, access to the pension scheme and a great annual leave entitlement. Experience is not essential as all training is provided including Induction and NVQ's Travel is an integral part of these roles and you must obtain a satisfactory Enhanced Criminal Records Disclosure Certificate which will be paid for by the company.

Fourth loss for Hawks

With just a minute of normal time remaining Enfield should have grabbed a third. Hasell was caught out by Curley's poor back pass and the keeper's miscued clearance went straight to Wallace. He in turn found Enfield substitute Rudi Hall but his low drive was superbly blocked as Hasell atoned for his error.

However, the visitors were not to be denied and grabbed a third on 90 minutes when Hall's cross caught out the flat-footed Hawks defence and Wallace poked the ball into the bottom left corner.

Hawks caretaker boss Tommy Cunningham said: "We gave a good account of ourselves. Reece [Dobson] had a great chance and that would have made it 1-1. You cannot fault the players for effort. There is a good feeling and a good atmosphere. We have raised expectations."

The match was watched by Harlow's biggest crowd of the season (297).

HARLOW TN: Hasell 7, Protheroe 6, Knight 5, Curley 4, Thomas 6, Gliddon 6 (Ginev 45), Hayes 4, Mason 4, Edwards 5, Osei 6 (Lawson 82), DOBSON 7 (Francis-Adeyinka 65). Subs not used: Lawson, Weaver, Harris (gk).

Heath close to silverware

HEATH Rovers booked a spot in the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League Premier Division Cup final when they beat North Weald 1-0 at home in the last four.

Martin Foster was on target for the hosts on Saturday.

In the premier division, Sheering's best performance of the season saw them thrash Old Street 5-0 at home.

Division two leaders Albury moved a step closer to clinching the title when they won 3-2 at Potter Street. Steven Byford and Luke Morris netted for Street.

In the same division Hertfordshire Rangers moved into second spot ahead of Dunmow Rhodes on goal difference when they drew 0-0 with Lower Street at home.

All other matches were postponed because of waterlogged pitches.

April Fool!

DID you spot our April Fool's Day joke last week?

Of course, Teddy Sheringham has not come out of retirement to sign for the Hawks.

But many thanks to Hawks matchday secretary John McClelland for playing along with our 'story' on the Harlow Town fans' forum.

Tour's an Easter treat!

A SUCCESSFUL Easter tour of Skegness was enjoyed by Harlow Rugby Club's U-15 team as they won both their matches.

The first game saw them beat Market Rasen 20-12 on Saturday.

Josh Davies kicked a penalty to put the Essex side 3-0 ahead before Sonny Handscomb burst through the home defence to score a try Davies converted.

The hosts replied with an unconverted try before Dominic Lane touched down Harlow's second try for a 15-5 half-time lead.

The second half saw Tom Bircham score an unconverted try for Harlow.

Harlow beat Grimsby 22-8 on Easter Day.

The points for the tourists came through tries from Tom Bircham, Zaki Chameiou and Cormac Roberts, while Sonny Handscomb kicked two conversions and a penalty.

Dad's pride in final joy

IT was a family moment to treasure as Dan White played with his two sons when Albury won the Division Two Cup final.

It is the first full season that White, a 51-year-old central defender and the team's coach, has played with both full-back Ben, 23, and striker Joe, 19.

Mr White snr is in his second spell at Albury.

And he's determined this will not be the final flourish to his lengthy football career.

He said: "I was really thrilled. It was great to play with my sons in a winning cup final team."

"I just got through the 90 minutes and it's a question of using your experience."

"I felt we deserved to win it. We could have been two goals up

Albury 3, Herts Rangers 0

Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League, Division Two Cup final

at half-time."

He added: "I will see how I am at the end of the season before I carry on."

The deadlock in the final, played at Bishop's Stortford Football Club, was not broken until the 55th minute.

Albury player-boss Stuart McAllister headed home from a David Czerkas corner.

On 70 minutes, another Czerkas corner eluded everybody before James Dann nodded in at the far post.

Rangers almost got back into it when a Richard Jones lob clipped the Albury bar on 80 minutes.

Dann then completed a brace and made it 3-0 when he ran through the Rangers' defence and finished from the edge of the box.

A goalless first half had seen Rangers keeper Steve Wright make three fine saves to deny Joe White twice, as well as Dann.

At the other end, Albury keeper Steve King denied Mark Barrow in a one-on-one, tipping his shot away for a corner.

Albury's three youngest players are the club's top scorers this season (all 17 years of age). Joe White is currently top scorer with 21 goals, averaging nearly 2 goals per game, David Czerkas has scored 11 and James Dann has 9 to his name. All three boys are the product of the Bishop's Stortford FC Eastern Junior Alliance side.

Rangers left-back and President Dan Law said: "Congratulations go to Albury. They were the better team. It's only our second season and was a wonderful experience."

Bowls player eyes England

HARLOW-based bowls player Steve Mitchinson has been picked as a reserve for an England trial on May 23.

Mitchinson (34), a member of Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club in Harlow, has also reached two Essex indoor bowls finals.

He will play James Rippey (Falcon Indoor Bowls Club) in the singles final.

Mitchinson, from Challinor in Harlow, has also got into the county pairs final with fellow Tye Green IBC member Barry O'Connor.

Mitchinson and O'Connor beat a pair from Clacton 27-12 in the semi-final last Thursday. The final will be at Falcon Bowls Club in Chelmsford on Sunday April 18.

Meanwhile, Tye Green finished third in the top flight (division one) of the Essex County League. They were four points behind winners Barking.

'We'll be back,' vows owner

Meanwhile, the Ryman League want to take nine points away from Ilford for fielding John Hughes in eight matches this season.

The player was under a lengthy ban from the FA

Essex when he played.

Ilford have appealed to the Football Association, but this should be turned down.

However, Cunningham feels his side's inability to notch enough wins meant the Ilford reprieve counted for nothing.

"We have lost four on the bounce. That's not going to get you out of it. We were always looking to people to lose games."

But Cunningham will not give up and wants to finish above second-from-bottom Leyton.

"We have still got points to

Warren in line for boss job

A coach at Barrows Farm with Ryan Kirby – who incidentally watched Harlow's defeat against Enfield Town on Easter Monday – Warren was at the heart of the decision to bring in several former Harlow Town players such as keeper James Hasell, utility player Mark Taylor and centre-half Danny Chapman.

The run of three wins in four games in March had given Hawks hope of beating the drop but the back injury to midfielder Ryan Maxwell was a massive blow, while the departure of Fiston Manuella was another nail in the coffin.

Subsequent injuries to Taylor and Chapman (out for the season with a groin injury) have also been costly.

However, it is Hawks' lack of goals and their miserable home form which has cost them the most this season.

Since the opening day win over Great Wakering Rovers, Harlow Town have only won once at home this season (a 2-0 victory against Romford in December).

If Harlow had been able to bring in a fit and experienced front-man it may have made the difference. The Hawks could not rely on a half-fit James Bunn, while Julian Edwards does not look like he can score goals at this level.

The departure of experienced forward Wayne Grant when Marvin Samuel was sacked was a blow, but even he missed far more opportunities than he scored.

Ultimately Cunningham and his predecessors have been unable to attract top strikers to a club who have been on the slippery slope to relegation since November.

ON THE BALL: Striker Ivo Ginev in action against Enfield Town on Monday (HSP0639718)

Fourth straight loss spells drop for Hawks

THE final flickering flame of survival was extinguished by Enfield Town as the Hawks suffered a fourth successive defeat and with it their hopes of a Ryman League reprieve, writes ALAN SCOTT.

Harlow can only hope that teams merge in the summer or go bust if they are to avoid playing the likes of Sawbridgeworth Town and Stansted next term.

Hawks can finish level with second-from-bottom Leyton (26 points) – but the Londoners only need a point from their last four games to finish above Harlow Town (14 points).

Harlow gave a debut to former AFC Hornchurch midfielder Frank Curley.

Harlow Tn 1, Enfield Tn 3
Ryman League, division one north

Enfield started brightly and went ahead on only nine minutes from the penalty spot.

This was awarded for Liam Thomas's rash challenge on Adam Wallace just inside the box.

Liam Hope slotted the spot-kick into the bottom left as Hawks keeper James Hasell guessed the wrong way.

The Hawks pressed and should have levelled minutes later.

Reece Dobson's wonderful 30-yard pass caught the Enfield defence napping but Julian Edwards' stab at goal was superbly blocked by the chest of the advancing Enfield keeper Rob Blackburn.

The hosts were unlucky not to get a penalty when Emmanuel Osei was upended by Craig McKay on 35 minutes.

Harlow finished the half the stronger and Dobson's neat chip from just inside the box was deflected over the bar on 38 minutes.

Midfielder Shaun Gliddon was forced off at the break with an Achilles injury and Harlow sent on a third striker in the shape of recent signing Ivo Ginev.

Harlow's best chance came and went on 48 minutes when great inter-play from Osei and Dobson sent the latter clear and the youngster stormed into the box before firing narrowly wide of the right post with Blackburn beaten.

As Harlow pushed on, Enfield grabbed a second goal on 58 minutes when the unmarked Sam Byfield hammered in through a crowd of players – and the unsighted Hasell – into the bottom right corner from just outside the box.

Harlow gave themselves hope with a goal on 68 minutes.

Ginev, who looked sharp in his substitute cameo, went on a brilliant mazy run and won a penalty when he was felled by Dave Blower at virtually the same spot that Thomas gave away the penalty in the first half.

Hawks skipper Lee Protheroe smashed the spot-kick into the bottom right corner.

'We'll be back!'

ON THE BALL: Lee Protheroe celebrates after scoring from the spot against Enfield Town (HSP0639718). Below, Hawks co-owner Tommy Cunningham

Owner's vow as HTFC fail to avoid bottom two finish

HAWKS caretaker boss Tommy Cunningham says his side can bounce back from relegation by winning the Essex Senior League title next season – and is eyeing a trip to Wembley in the FA Vase!

The defeat against Enfield Town on Easter Monday killed any chance of staying up – despite an unlikely life-line in the imminent 9-point deduction for fellow strugglers Ilford.

All Harlow Town can hope for now is that Maldon Town et al merge with other teams and drop out of the league.

But Hawks co-owner Cunningham says the club can bounce back.

"This could be the re-birth of this football club if we are relegated. We could be mid-table in the Ryman League but we could win the Essex Senior League – that would get the fans involved. Wherever we are we will have an opportunity to progress."

Impressive Warren in line for manager's job

TOMMY Cunningham will not make a decision on the appointment of the next Harlow Town manager until the summer – but admits his right-hand man Kevin Warren has done his prospects no harm at all.

The Hawks owner and caretaker boss paid tribute to his assistant.

Defender Warren, a player at Harlow Sportcentre and Barrows Farm, advised Cunningham on which players to bring in following the sacking of previous boss Marvin Samuel.

Cunningham said: "Kevin has done a fantastic job as a number two. My knowledge of non-league players is limited and I relied heavily on Kevin's judgement."

"He got it right more often than not.

"He has worked incredibly hard. He has ticked all the boxes. We need a manager who can control things and instil discipline and take charge of selection."
